

More Mobile Application Training in South Africa

Adrian Kosmaczewski

2011-12-22

Just like last October<sup>1</sup> I'll be back in South Africa next February, for a whole series of mobile application trainings organized jointly by immedia<sup>2</sup> and akosma software!

Have you ever wanted to learn how to create a mobile app? Looked at Evernote and thought, “Hey, I can do that!” We have embarked on an exciting training initiative aimed at providing South African businesses and individuals with the skills they need to become global app creators.

Courses will be held in Cape Town, Johannesburg and Durban, and will be provided<sup>3</sup> by Anice Hassim, head strategist of immedia; Kishyr Ramdial, specialist cloud and mobile app developer; and myself.

There are courses targeted at app developers, dev beginners, and executives – to ensure that you learn exactly what you need to from our programme.

Check out the complete program here: <http://www.immedia.co.za/courses/trainers.html> and sign up sending an email to ; hurry up!

---

<sup>1</sup>/blog/mobile-application-training-in-south-africa/

<sup>2</sup><http://www.immedia.co.za/>

<sup>3</sup><http://www.immedia.co.za/courses/trainers.html>