Adrian Kosmaczewski

2011-12-12

Just like last year¹, I am thrilled to announce that I will be the host of the Cross Platform Mobile track² in QCon London 2012³!

QCon is a series of conferences taking place in San Francisco⁴ and London every year. It is a joint venture between Trifork⁵ and InfoQ⁶.

We are currently working towards the 2012 edition of the London event, gathering input from you, to get the best speakers and the best content. We will be focusing on web technologies and frameworks, as well as standards and also design. If you want to participate as a speaker, or have someone you would like to recommend, just use the contact form in this site⁷! I look forward to hearing from you.
